vidual. An early review, or an interim notification, of exceptionally good or bad progress by a student is desirable to promote more rapid pertinent personnel action than can be made otherwise because of the necessary delay in formalizing and channelling the final product of training evaluations. No new cases or problems have been presented to this office this week from any of the usual training contacts. The OC, BOC and PM training courses are not in a period when students usually demonstrate difficulties to their instructors.
